

Structural Goal Builder

Use the table below to make sure you include all necessary components of a skill acquisition goal.

|   | In "X" Context | Who | Will Do "X" | Level of Accuracy | Level of Independence | Mastery Criterion |
|---|----------------|-----|-------------|-------------------|-----------------------|-------------------|
| 1 |                |     |             |                   |                       |                   |
| 2 |                |     |             |                   |                       |                   |
| 3 |                |     |             |                   |                       |                   |
| 4 |                |     |             |                   |                       |                   |
| 5 |                |     |             |                   |                       |                   |

|   | Now, write out how each of your goals would read in one complete sentence: |
|---|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 |                                                                            |
| 2 |                                                                            |
| 3 |                                                                            |
| 4 |                                                                            |
| 5 |                                                                            |
